

BACN triumphs at the Aesthetic Awards

The BACN and its members had a great night at the aesthetic industry's leading event, the Aesthetic Awards at the Park Plaza in London this weekend. The BACN won the 'Hamilton Fraser Award for Association/Industry Body of the Year', and a number of its members other top awards.

BACN Chair Sharon Bennett said:

'We really wanted to win the 'Association of the Year' award this year as we have gone through a huge amount of change over the last 18 months - we have grown our membership base considerably, improved our services to members and been highly influential in the national debate on regulation. This award reconfirms our position as the leading Association for aesthetic practitioners in the UK, and is a testament to the members, and to the great team we have at board level and at headquarters.'

The evening was topped off with a fantastic win for BACN's Frances Turner Trill in the 'Institute Hyalual Award for Aesthetic Nurse Practitioner of the Year'. The party continued as Sharon Bennett and Anthea Whiteley's Harrogate Aesthetics won the 'Wigmore Medical Award for Best Clinic in the North'. DANA/BACN Affiliate member Anna Gunning won the 'Aesthetic Source Award for Best Clinic Group, UK and Ireland'. Finally BACN Board Member, Anna Baker was part of the team that won 'The Enhance Insurance Award for Training Initiative'.

BACN CEO Paul Burgess said:

'What a night. It is so great to be leading such a fabulous organization like the BACN and to represent a hugely talented group of people who continue to be recognized by their peers as the best in the industry'.
